GET capacity utilization in December kept 95%, the revenue decrease was mainly for the OEM business increased.

The U.S. DOC just released that tariffs on Chinese solar cells may be lowered after a review of duties. The preliminary review of 2012 import tariffs recommended that the anti-dumping and countervailing duties levied on most Chinese solar manufacturers be reduced from a combined 31 percent to around 17.5 percent.

GET expects trade war could be alleviated, while global customer distribution with brand name is significant. GET is planning to cooperate further with high-end customers in different areas, based on 2GW in-house capacity and 700MW from strategic partnerships, to pursue high-end shares in worldwide markets.
