Jan. through Oct.	9,576,961		13,560,471	-29%

Along with growing demand for diamond wired wafer, GET kept prioritizing profits to manage the best product mix. GET in-house capacity utilization was more than 90% in October.

At the same time, GET got also preliminary orders from international customers for GET VPC certified light-weight module installed with GET wafer. The innovative module was highly appreciated in PV Taiwan 2017.

As most of institutional analyses predict global solar installation in 2017 to reach 100GW, within which China, U.S., India, Japan and Germany keep as main markets, while Brazil, Australia, South Korea, and Chile will become GW markets; GET therefore plans to expand business in emerging markets, along with Tatung Group's system integration support, to pursue the best operating profits.
